

12 Luxury Spa Resorts Worth the Splurge

Check in for an unforgettable wellness-themed vacation at these spas that go the extra mile

ALI VAN HOUTEN

3 of 12 Courtesy of The Allison Inn & Spa

The Allison Inn & Spa, Newberg, OR

Nestled in Oregon wine country, the LEED Gold-certified resort has long been a home base for indulgence and fine dining. The spa options nod to both with goodies like Divine Wine, a nourishing honey-and-wine mask, as well as the Mimosa, a massage that uses champagne oil to luxurious effect. Meanwhile, Art at the Allison, the hotel's private art collection, features over 500 original works from 100 Oregon artists. And in September 2017, the spa debuted a cafe full of healthy eats to keep you going from treatment—to winery to winery. $$$$; theallison.com